SERIE A

There have been exactly 100 more league goals over the first 12 matchdays of Serie A: 379 this season compared with 279 last year. The Serie A goals-per-game average has therefore risen to 3.16, compared with 2.32 in the 2025/26 season.

With their goals against Parma and Fiorentina respectively, Donyell Malen (12) and Gustavo Varela (11) have reached double figures in Serie A: not since the 2020/21 season had at least two players reached this milestone at this stage of the season (on that occasion Cristiano Ronaldo with 11 goals, along with Romelu Lukaku and Zlatan Ibrahimovic on 10).

More generally, this is only the 5th time in the three-points-for-a-win era that this has happened: besides the two cases mentioned above, it also occurred in the 2017/18 season (14 goals for Ciro Immobile, 11 for Paulo Dybala and Mauro Icardi, 10 for Dries Mertens), in the 2016/17 season (Mauro Icardi and Edin Dzeko level on 10) and in the 2000/01 season (11 for Andriy Shevchenko and 10 for Gabriel Omar Batistuta).

Staying on the subject of strikers, on the 11th matchday of the 1994/95 season, on 27 November 1994 to be precise, Gabriel Omar Batistuta scored his 13th Serie A goal of the season (Fiorentina-Sampdoria 2-2, a penalty converted in the 60th minute), setting the record - still unbeaten - of 11 consecutive matchdays on the scoresheet in the top flight. On that occasion the Argentine striker broke the previous record (10 consecutive matchdays), held since the 1962/63 season by Enzio Pascutti, the Bologna forward.

VENEZIA — BOLOGNA

20 official meetings between the two sides at the Penzo: 8 Venezia wins (most recent 4-3, Serie A 2021/22), 5 draws (most recent 2-2, Coppa Italia 2000/01) and 7 Bologna wins (most recent 0-1, Serie A 2024/25).

Bologna have won 6 of their last 7 Serie A visits to Venezia: the only exception was Venezia's 4-3 win on 8 May 2022. In those 6 defeats Venezia scored just one goal.

Venezia are the only team in this Serie A season yet to draw a game: 2 wins and 10 defeats.

All 6 of Venezia's points have come at home: 2 wins (1-0 against Napoli, 2-1 against Udinese) and 4 defeats in 6 home games, with 5 goals scored and 11 conceded. Venezia have won 2 of their last 3 home matches.

Bologna unbeaten in their last 5 matchdays: 4 wins and 1 draw (1-1 against Udinese); Bologna have now scored in 8 games in a row.

Since Raffaele Palladino took charge on Matchday 5, Bologna have collected 17 of their 18 league points: 5 wins, 2 draws and 1 defeat for the coach from Mugnano di Napoli.

Another win would see Bologna equal their club record for consecutive Serie A away wins: they have reached 5 only once, in 1963/64.

Venezia and Bologna have taken the same number of shots in this league season (161), but Bologna have scored more than twice as many goals: 17 against 8. Venezia need an average of 20 shots to score a goal, the highest figure in Serie A.

Davide Nicola and Raffaele Palladino meet for the 6th time in official matches: in the previous 5, one win for Nicola (Empoli-Monza 3-0, 21 January 2024) followed by 4 wins for Palladino, three of them in a row. However, Palladino has never beaten Venezia (1 draw and 1 defeat, both with Fiorentina in 2024/25).

Palladino faces one of his former coaches: under Nicola he played 19 Serie A games and scored 2 goals for Crotone in 2016/17.

Riccardo Orsolini has scored 3 goals in 4 Serie A appearances against Venezia: among Bologna players, only István Mike (5) and Ettore Puricelli (4) have done better against Venezia in the league.

VENEZIA

BOLOGNA

Nadir Zortea scored against Udinese: his 1st goal of the season for the Italian defender. He had not scored in Serie A since 3 May 2025 (Cagliari-Udinese 1-2).

Akor Adams and Antoine Hainaut are Venezia's top scorers with 2 goals each: along with Lecce, Venezia are the only teams in the league without a player on at least 3 goals.

FROSINONE

PARMA

5 official meetings between the two sides in Frosinone: 2 Frosinone wins (most recent 3-2, Serie A 2018/19), 1 draw (2-2, Serie B 2021/22) and 2 Parma wins (most recent 3-4, Serie B 2022/23). Both teams have always scored: 11 goals each.

Both sides come into this game on the back of 2 consecutive defeats. Frosinone suffered theirs away from home (1-0 at Cagliari, 5-1 at Milan); Parma in front of their own fans (1-2 against Bologna, 1-5 against Roma).

Frosinone have collected 15 of their 20 points at home. They have won their last 5 home games (Venezia, Como, Sassuolo, Lecce and Torino), after the 0-1 defeat to Juventus on Matchday 1.

Frosinone have scored 16 home league goals: only Inter (19), Milan (18) and Roma (17) have scored more.

Frosinone are the team that score the most first-half goals: 15, level with Roma. Parma score the fewest: 2, level with Venezia.

Parma have won just 1 of their last 7 matchdays (0-3 in Bergamo, 2 November): in that run they also drew 1 and lost 5.

Parma have lost 4 of their 5 away games this season, scoring 5 goals and conceding 9: their only away win was the 0-3 at Atalanta on Matchday 10.

Parma have scored 4 of their 10 goals through substitutes: the highest percentage of goals from the bench in Serie A.

Alberto Gilardino has been in charge of Parma since Matchday 6: in 7 games he has collected 4 points (1 win, 1 draw and 5 defeats).

Massimiliano Alvini and Alberto Gilardino meet for the first time in official matches: Alvini, in his 31st top-flight game as a coach, has never faced Parma in Serie A; as a coach, Gilardino has never beaten Frosinone in Serie A (1 draw and 1 defeat).

Frosinone have 4 players with at least 25 league shots (Giorgi Kvernadze 38, Farès Ghedjemis 33, Antonio Raimondo 30, Giacomo Calò 27): no other Serie A team has more than 2.

Patrizio Masini scored against Milan: his 1st goal of the season for the Frosinone midfielder and his 2nd overall in Serie A. The only previous one came on 17/01/25 for Genoa (Roma-Genoa 3-1).

TORINO

LAZIO

73 official meetings between the two sides in Turin: 31 Torino wins (most recent 2-0, Serie A 2025/26), 24 draws (most recent 0-0, Serie A 2022/23) and 18 Lazio wins (most recent 2-3, Serie A 2024/25).

The 2-0 win on 1 March ended a run of 6 consecutive Serie A home games without a win for Torino against Lazio (2 draws and 4 defeats): Torino's previous win dated back to 26 May 2019 (3-1).

Torino winless in their last 4 matchdays: 1 draw and 3 defeats. Their last win came on 23 October at home (Torino-Monza 3-2).

Torino have conceded in all 6 of their home games this season (11 goals in total): their record at the Grande Torino is 2 wins, 1 draw and 3 defeats.

Lazio are one of only two teams still unbeaten in this Serie A season, along with Roma. The last time two teams were still unbeaten after 12 matchdays was in the 2021/22 season: Milan (who went on to win the Scudetto) and Napoli, both top on 32 points.

Lazio have the best away record in the league: 16 points from 6 away games, with 5 wins and 1 draw (1-1 in Naples). Overall they have scored 15 goals and conceded 4, with 3 clean sheets away from the Olimpico (level with Roma; no team has done better).

Lazio top of the table after 12 matchdays: it is the first time since the 2002/03 Serie A season, which they went on to finish 4th. It is Lazio's best start to a Serie A season in the three-points-for-a-win era. The last leaders with 32 points after 12 Serie A matchdays were Napoli in 2022/23, who went on to win the Scudetto with 90 points.

Lazio have the best defence in Serie A with 9 goals conceded and have scored in all 12 games played, with 28 goals in total.

Ignazio Abate and Gennaro Gattuso meet for the first time in official matches. The Lazio coach has faced Torino 6 times in Serie A (in charge of Milan and Napoli), with a record of 2 wins, 3 draws and 1 defeat.

Ignazio Abate and Gennaro Gattuso were teammates at Milan between 2009/10 and 2011/12, winning 1 Scudetto and 1 Supercoppa. Gattuso later coached Abate at Milan: 30 Serie A appearances for Abate under him between 2017/18 and 2018/19.

TORINO

LAZIO

Giovanni Simeone has scored 10 goals in 17 Serie A appearances against Lazio. No player currently in Serie A has done better against Lazio.

Tijjani Noslin scored against Lecce: with 6 goals in 11 appearances, the Dutchman has already set his personal best for a single Serie A season (the previous best was 5, in 2023/24). He is Lazio's top scorer, ahead of Davide Frattesi (5) and Gustav Isaksen (4).

INTER — GENOA

64 official meetings between the two sides in Milan: 50 Inter wins (most recent 2-0, Serie A 2025/26), 10 draws (most recent 1-1, Serie A 2012/13) and 4 Genoa wins (most recent 1-3, Serie A 1993/94).

Inter are the only team in this Serie A season with a perfect home record: 6 wins out of 6 (Monza, Napoli, Udinese, Parma, Fiorentina and Como), with 19 goals scored, the best home attack in the league.

Inter have scored at least 2 goals in all 6 of their home games this season. Inter's Serie A record is 13 consecutive home games with at least 2 goals.

Genoa have gone 216 minutes without scoring away to Inter: their last goal was Vasquez's in the 54th minute of the game played on 4 March 2024 (Inter-Genoa 2-1, Serie A). It is Genoa's only goal in their last 10 meetings with Inter in Milan.

Genoa have won 5 of their last 7 league games, after collecting 1 point from the first 5 matchdays.

Genoa have won 2 consecutive away games (1-2 at Lecce, 0-2 at Sassuolo) after losing their first 3 away matches. In 2025/26 Genoa never won two away games in a row; between 2007/08 and 2024/25 they never went beyond 3.

Genoa are the only team in Serie A 2026/27 to have scored all their goals through starters, none through substitutes.

Cristian Chivu and Daniele De Rossi meet for the 3rd time in official matches: in the previous 2, both in 2025/26, two wins for the Inter coach. As a coach, De Rossi has always lost to Inter in Serie A: 3 defeats out of 3.

Chivu and De Rossi were teammates at Roma for 4 seasons: between 2003/04 and 2006/07 they played 66 Serie A games together. As teammates they won the Coppa Italia in the 2006/07 season.

INTER

GENOA

Francesco Pio Esposito scored against Atalanta: his first hat-trick for Inter, and he has now scored in five consecutive games for club and country. His record for goals in a single official match, however, is still the one he set in September 2024 for Italy Under-21: 4 goals against San Marino.

Milutin Osmajić has scored 6 of Genoa's 13 goals this season, almost half: no other Genoa player has more than 2.

UDINESE — FIORENTINA

No draws in the last 6 Serie A meetings in Udine: 3 wins each. The last draw was the 0-0 on 8 March 2020. Udinese's last 3 home wins against Fiorentina all came in the league, without conceding (3-0 in 2025/26, 1-0 in 2022/23 and 1-0 in 2020/21).

Fiorentina have won just 1 of their last 8 games: their last win came on 2 November (Sassuolo-Fiorentina 2-4). Fiorentina are on 9 points with a record of 2 wins, 3 draws and 7 defeats, the most recent the 3-0 loss at Monza.

Udinese and Fiorentina are the only two teams in this Serie A season yet to win at home. The two sides' three wins have all come away from home.

Only Sassuolo (31) have conceded more goals than Fiorentina (28) and Udinese (26).

Udinese (8) and Fiorentina (6) are the two teams that concede the most goals in the last 15 minutes of the first half, stoppage time included.

Udinese have scored more goals through defenders (4) than through forwards (3): no team has got fewer goals from its attack.

Cagliari have lost 5 of their last 6 matchdays: their only positive result came on 7 November (Cagliari-Frosinone 1-0, Serie A).

Cagliari have scored 3 goals in their 5 home games this season, never more than one per game: the worst home attack in Serie A. Both home wins came by 1-0 (Lecce and Frosinone). On the other hand, only Como (1) have conceded fewer home goals than Cagliari (4).

Milan have won 3 consecutive Serie A games: in 2025/26 Milan's best winning run stopped at 4.

Milan have scored 28 goals after 12 matchdays: they had not scored at least as many in Serie A since 1992/93, the season of the second of three consecutive Scudetti under Fabio Capello.

Fabio Pisacane and Ruben Amorim meet for the first time in official matches.

Cagliari's top scorer is a former Milan player: Daniel Maldini, who has scored 5 of Cagliari's 10 goals, played 15 Serie A games for Milan between 2019/20 and 2021/22.

Alphadjo Cisse, who turned 20 on 22 October, is Milan's top scorer (6) in Serie A 2026/27. The last Milan player to score at least 6 goals in a Serie A season before turning 21 was Patrick Cutrone (10 in 2017/18), who was also the last Under-21 player to finish a season as Milan's top league scorer. Before him, since 1994/95, only Stephan El Shaarawy (16 in 2012/13) and Alexandre Pato (9, 15 and 12 between 2007/08 and 2009/10) had done so.
